

First Our Pensions, Now Our Voice.

After Nov. 8, What Will Be Next?

The Schwarzenegger administration tried earlier this year to privatize the pensions of more than 1 million California workers – including firefighters, teachers, nurses and other public workers.

But we fought back.

We spoke up for death benefits for the widows and orphans of firefighters and police officers. We spoke up for communities struggling to hire nurses, teachers and safety personnel. We spoke out against what privatizing our pensions would do to our state.

We won. But our victory was only temporary.

Taking Our Pensions Was Just the First Step.

Now, corporate special interests want to silence our voices once again.

Proposition 75 would undermine our voices and give big corporate donors even more power. If they silence us now, the next time they try to take our pensions or cut funding for our communities, they could very well succeed.

Your voice is your most valuable tool. Protect your asset.
